We want you to be happy with the service you receive from us. Please make sure you have read "How to prepare your top and how to prepare your back" for best results. If there is any fullness in the borders, holes in the quilt or inaccurate measurements, we will do our best to work it into the quilting process.

We will make every attempt possible to reach you when your quilt is finished. Any quilts not paid for and picked up after 60 days from first notification of completion will become property of Joyful Endings Longarm Quilting. The quilt will be donated to a charitable organization.

We are working with machines that can have mechanical failures, which are rare. This could cause a delay in quilting turn around time, or possible damage to a quilt. By signing the this form you agree Joyful Endings Longarm Quilting will not be held responsible for mechanical delays or damages.

If you display your quilt in a show, please credit Joyful Endings Longarm Quilting for the longarm quilting.
